The special committees on the double funding of $35,000 in State bonds held two sessions on Saturday. The committeemen are evidently intent upon fathoming the whole mystery. It is their purpose to hold their inquiries in private. As to that policy there may very well be two opinions. However, those most interested reporters will try to do their duty to the general public. The special committee on reapportion-nent will have an immense amount of work before it in gathering statistical and other information, and the services of a special clerk will doubtless be required by it. The recent message of Governor Kemper to the General Assembly was printed (in whole or in part) in more newspapers than any other message of a Virginia Governor.

THE INAUGURATION OF GOVERNOR HOLLI-DAY.-Governor-elect Holliday has written letter to Colonel Bradley Johnson accepting, with thanks, the tender of the First regiment as a military escort to him upon his coming to the city to be inaugurated. The Winchester Light Infantry and the West Augusta Guards will come down with Governor Holliday and be the welcome guests of our military during their stay here. The Governor will probably arrive on the 31st instant, and be escorted by all the military from the depôt to his quarters. Then the visiting military will be escorted to their On the 1st of January (Tuesday) there will be a grand military and civic demonstration, and if fair weather prevails Colonel Holliday will deliver his inaugural from the southern portico of the Capitol. Colonel Johnson announces that volunteer companies and civic societies 'desiring to join the escort on the 1st should report to the adjutant of the regiment at 9 A. M. on that day. The line will be formed on Bank street, resting on Twelfth. The novelty and interesting features of the proposed inaugural ceremonies will doubtless ensure their success.

THE BREACH-OF-PROMISE SUIT .- In the City Circuit Court on Saturday the suit of Miss Lizzie Pauline Ruhle against Ferdinand Neurath, for $2,500, for breach of promise of marriage, was concluded. THE READJUSTERS.

A Difference of Opinion and a Decided Split.

A CALL FOR A MEETING OF READJUSTERS AND WHAT FOLLOWED-THE EQUITABLE READJUSTERS MUSTER IN FORCE-MR. BARBOUR AND HIS FOLLOWERS RETIRE FROM THE HALL AND GO TO THE EX-CHANGE, WHERE THEY HOLD A SECRET CAUCUS-A SURE-ENOUGH BREACH.

Saturday, just after the adjournment of each house of the General Assembly, and before the members had dispersed, the Clerk read a call for a meeting of the readjusters, to be held in the hall of the House at 75 o'clock. Shortly before 8 o'clock that night the hall was crowded. There were present members of both branches and both parties, together numbering about one hundred and twenty-five, and many spectators. Senator C. T. Smith, of Nelson-the time fixed for the conference having passed and no motion towards organization having been made-called the assembly to order and nominated for chairman Senator Quesenberry, of Caroline. The question was put by Mr. Smith, and declared carried.

At that moment Mr. Barbour, advancing up the middle aisle nearly to the Clerk's desk, behind which Mr. Smith stood, demanded to be heard. He said that he had endeavored to gain the attention of Mr. Smith before the vote was taken, but had failed. His purpose was to remonstrate against any such proceedings as had taken place, and to say that this was intended to e an adjourned meeting of readjusters; that it was called according to agreement by the chairman of the readjusters' former meeting held at the Exchange Hotel on Tuesday evening; that Mr. Harrison, of Sussex, was that man, and the proper party to call the conference to order; and that he hoped the gentlemen not in sympathy with the cause would not interfere with or obstruct their business.

WHO IS BOSS HERE?

Mr. Harrison, of Sussex, said that this meeting was called upon his notice. It was cisions of the highest courts of the country intended to be not a caucus of the Consertractive assortments of holiday goods. They vative party, but a meeting of the Conservative readjusters of the House and the members of the Senate entertaining the same views. It was a conference of the Simon-pure readjusters, and it was his province to call it to order, the first conference having adjourned subject to his call.

Senator Smith claimed to be a readjuster: elected by his people as such, and honestly believing that the public debt of Virginia ought to and could be readjusted. Hr. Harrison said that it was understood Mr. Smith was elected as a trimmer; that is, that he was a readjuster just to get elected. Mr. Smith warmly replied that it was understood no such a thing; that his opinions were well known and everywhere freely expressed, and that he was elected by people of all parties without opposition.

WANTED, A CHAIRMAN. Mr. Smith: Senator Quesenberry [who. by the way, is unquestionably a readjuster has been elected chairman; he will please come forward and take this seat. Mr. Quesenberry: Under the circumstances I certainly decline to do so. Mr. Smith: Then I nominate Speaker Allen. The Speaker (who was on the floor): I

Mr. Barbour : No, sir. Mr. Harrison only can call this meeting to order. Mr. Barbour then went on to explain that on Tuesday evening there had been a will keep informed for themselves, and the meeting of readjusters of the House at the Exchange Hotel, and that that meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman; that the chairman had reconvened the conference, and invited the members of the Senate in sympathy with the movement to participate. Mr. Ashton: How can you tell who are and who are not readjusters until we have had the opportunity of exchanging views? Mr. Barbour : Were you elected as a readjuster? Mr. Ashton : All of us were. Mr. Barbour: I saw that the newspapers called some relidjusters and some not. Semebody suggested that the newspapers couldn't settle that point. Mr. Barbour went on to say that Mr. Harrison should be allowed to manage the meeting, and that after Mr. Harrison had called it to order he (Harrison) could hear any motions proper to be made. Mr. Smith contended that he had as much right to call the meeting to order as Mr. Harrison. Sharp words passed between Messrs. Smith and Harrison. Both gentlemen showed pluck and spirit, and expressed their peculiar views in short and decided phrases. Mr. Paul thought he could end all this discussion. He stated flow the first caucus was organized; how they adjourned, and what sort of readjusters should take part. Somebody moved that the meeting adjourn.

Mr. Smith, having temporarily called Mr. Koiner to the chair, offered the following (the first resolution of which is from the Conservative platform]:

1. Resolved, That while we intend to prove true to the past glorious history of R. B. Evans. Virginia, and are proud of her good name and fame amongst the nations of the earth. and would scorn to repudiate her just obligations, and are resolved to preserve inviolate the public faith and credit, yet we cannot but view with concern and anxiety the W. 2. That in our efforts to carry out in good faith the sentiments of the foregoing resolution we solemnly pledge ourselves not to endorse or advocate any plan, therefore, which involves a violation of law or of our State and Federal constitutions, or the dein accordance therewith, or our oaths to support and abide the same. THE CAPITOL MEETING.

Mr. Brooke, of Fauquier, spoke at some length in opposition to the resolution, saying that he was elected to the Senate as a readjuster. he came into this hall that there would be a conference of all members of the Conservative party, and there would be a general expression of opinion in reference to the adjustment of the debt. He gave his views about the same as expessed in the platform. General Anderson offered the following: Resolved, That a meeting of all members of the General Assembly in favor of using

THE EXCHANGE-HOTEL CAUCUS. The Simon-Pure readjusters, upon reaching the Exchange Hotel, had the old billiard-room, on the Ballard-House side, opened and lighted, and assembled there in full force, and were called to order by Mr. Harrison. Mr. Fulkerson was elected permanent chairman, and Messrs. Robinson of Norfolk and McCaull of Pulaski were chosen secretaries. Members of the press were excluded. There was a good deal of excited com-

Rosa D'ERINA .- The sale of seats for the D'Erina musical evenings at Mozart Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday next is progressing rapidly, and the indications are that Ireland's prima donna will be greeted by large audiences. The programmes for both evenings are before us, and embrace sacred, classic, and comic selections-vocal and instrumental-from the music of all nations. The versatility of this celebrated lyric star most marvellous, and her singing and performances on the piano and organ are said to be unsurpassed by any of the best artists of the present century. M'lle D'Erina is accomplished in nearly all the dialects of continental Europe, and sings in seven different languages. Her "musical evenings' will undoubtedly be the event of the present season. Such an opportunity to hear an artiste of acknowledged merit is rarely offered our people, and they should not be

ROSE AND HARRY WATKINS .- To-night the old Richmond favorites, Rose and Harry Watkins, will commence an engagement a the Theatre, and will doubtless play to a full house. Their acting is excellent in its line, and a very interesting bill is promised. Heretofore they have drawn well in Richmond, and have given satisfaction to all who have witnessed their performances. 'Trodden Down; or, Under Two Flags,' will be presented. Reserved seats may be had at Johnston's.

TRAIN DELAYED .- Owing to the large number of freight trains on the line of the Chesapeake and Obto railroad Saturday, the mail train due here at 5:30 P. M. was delayed, and did not arrive until 8:15 at night.

The lady managers of St. Paul's Church Home for Aged and Infirm Women intend inviting their friends to a pound-party some time in the coming week, of which day due notice will be given, and in doing so wish to give their grateful thanks to some of their friends who in the last six months have given them substantial aid. They are due to Mr. James Smith and Mr. Babcock who gave them a liberal supply of ice during the heat of summer; to Mr. S. H. Hawes and Mr. S. P. Lathrop for donations of coal; to Richardson & Co., George An derson & Son, J. H. Crafton, Glenn & Jarvis, Owens & Co., sash- and blind-makers; James Tanner, upholsterer; J. Bowers William A.
